

Celebrating the Life and Legacy of a Beloved NEV Leader

By NEV Staff

Dr. Bryan Efron, former Chief Executive Officer of New England Village, passed away peacefully on February 10, 2026, leaving behind a legacy woven into the heart of our community. For 29 years, he guided NEV with compassion, vision, and a steadiness that made people feel safe, valued, and deeply cared for. His influence is not only reflected in the programs and homes he helped build—it lives in the countless individuals whose lives he touched simply by being who he was.

From 1983 to 2012, Bryan shepherded New England Village from its early years into a vibrant, inclusive community known for innovation, opportunity, and person-centered care. Under his leadership, NEV grew thoughtfully and intentionally. Homes became places of privacy and choice. Programs blossomed into pathways for learning, creativity, and joy. He truly believed that every person deserved the chance to realize their potential and pursue their dreams. And he dedicated his life to making that possible.

Lisa H., a long-time resident, remembers him not as a distant executive, but as a presence—warm, familiar, and kind. “He used to come to the workshop to visit. I had happy memories of him. He was a nice man.” She recalls how he stopped by to say hello to staff, attended parties at Ray Assembly Hall, and once took several individuals on a special trip to Boston, where they spent the day sightseeing, sharing a meal, and taking in a show. “He will be greatly missed by all of us.”

Another resident, Chip F., first met Bryan in 2001, a moment that stayed with him. “I still think about that meeting from time to time,” he said. “Bryan was kind, patient, friendly, and cared about everyone. He made a big difference in many lives and in how New England Village operates to this day. He was always there for us.”

This is who Bryan was: someone whose leadership was defined not by titles or authority, but by genuine human connection. He remembered birthdays. He asked about families. He noticed the little things—those details that make each of us unique. Bryan made everyone feel genuinely seen, a rare gift that makes his absence even more deeply felt.

“I’ve known Bryan Efron for 21+ years, first as my supervisor and later as a cherished friend,” said former Vice President of Marketing, Dolores Rezendes.

Spring is always a meaningful season at New England Village. It is a time when energy returns, connections deepen, and we are reminded of the strength of this community. We have experienced moments of growth, challenge, and shared responsibility, each one reinforcing the importance of the work we do together and the people who make it possible.

As we welcome spring and the renewed energy it brings, it is also important to pause and reflect on one of the largest winter storms we have seen in years, which brought more than 30 inches of snow to our community. Our teams responded with extraordinary commitment and care, arriving ahead of the storm and remaining present to ensure safety, uninterrupted support, and reassurance for the individuals we support. Others worked tirelessly to keep programs safe and operational as conditions improved. What this event revealed most clearly was the strength of this community. Staff showed up for one another and for the people we support with resilience and heart. I am deeply grateful for their dedication and for the partnership, patience, and trust families showed as we navigated this historic storm together.

At the heart of our work is a deep commitment to person-centered support, honoring each individual's choices, strengths, and aspirations. That commitment is carried forward by dedicated staff, families who partner with us in trust, and a broader community that believes in the value of inclusion and belonging. What makes this community strong is not any one initiative or moment, but the people who show up with care, compassion, and purpose for one another.

Behind the scenes, teams across the organization continued important work to strengthen quality, consistency, and readiness. This included ADA-compliant renovations that allow individuals to remain in their homes with dignity and independence, roof upgrades across multiple residences, and new paving and accessibility features at 624 School Street. These investments support safety, accessibility, and continuity of care as needs evolve.

Our Day Habilitation community reflects this spirit well. As staffing continued to stabilize, we were excited to reopen referrals at the Efron Center for Enrichment for the first time since the onset of the pandemic. This milestone brought renewed energy as we welcomed four new members. Seeing individuals build relationships, explore interests, and participate fully in their days is one of the clearest expressions of our mission in action. I am also proud to share that Day Habilitation completed the on-site portion of a MassHealth program review on March 25th, with teams approaching the process with preparation and professionalism.

Our community partnerships also continued to grow. Our Community Based Day Supports program strengthened long-standing relationships and built new ones, including the expansion of an ASL class taught by one of our own participants at multiple community locations. This is empowerment in action and a powerful example of what community inclusion looks like when individuals are not only participating but also leading and teaching within their communities.

These partnerships and moments of inclusion also remind us that sustaining this work requires strong systems, stable supports, and continued advocacy. Throughout this period, we met with legislators to discuss workforce stability and the importance of preserving community-based services, participated in community forums, and remained engaged with trade associations to support sustainable funding through Chapter 257 and MassHealth. We were honored to participate in the ADDP Legislative Forum, where one of our residents shared his personal journey and spoke about what residential services mean to him, powerfully conveying why strong legislative support remains essential to meaningful community living.

On April 10th, New England Village joined several other organizations to host the South of Boston Caring Force Rally, reinforcing our commitment to advocating for individuals with disabilities and the workforce that supports them. These efforts focus on fair funding, livable wages, and workforce sustainability, which are essential to maintaining strong, community-based supports.

As we look ahead, we are preparing for moments that bring our community together and planning intentionally for the future. Family and Friends Day, taking place on Saturday, October 3rd at our School Street location, is a time of connection and celebration. It is an opportunity to honor milestones, reconnect with familiar faces, and welcome new friends into the New England Village community.

We will also begin the renewal of New England Village's strategic plan. This will be a thoughtful, collaborative, and community-driven process grounded in the lived experiences of the people we support and those who support our mission every day. It will focus on the evolving needs of the individuals we serve, the expectations placed on our workforce, and the pace of change across our service environment. While that longer-term vision takes shape, we remain focused on strengthening our foundation, investing in our workforce, elevating quality and compliance, and creating opportunities for thoughtful program growth and innovation.

As you read this edition of Scoops, I hope you see your experiences, your partnerships, and your trust reflected in the stories that follow. Thank you for being part of New England Village and for the many ways you contribute to a community rooted in dignity, care, and possibility.

With appreciation,

Community Expansion

By Keith Escandel

Over the course of the past year, some of our volunteer opportunities came to a close, which caused us to ramp up our search for new opportunities. Fast forward to now - we have been successful! We lost two, but gained three and, with warmer weather ahead of us, the promise of tending to gardens is only a month or so away.

The new volunteer opportunities we were able to find and get up to speed with, include the Fire House Food Pantry in Pembroke. We have been volunteering there since the beginning of December. Each week, we have a group there around the time the delivery truck arrives. We then help stock the shelves with the new food that was delivered.

Our second endeavor started in mid-December, and takes place at the John Curtis Library in Hanover. This started with our bookmark deliveries and turned into a group going there each Friday, doing some light dusting tasks, dropping off bookmarks, and connecting with those who work there, plus checking out some books as well.

Lastly, our third volunteer opportunity that started the second week in March is at the Buddy and Friends Animal Rescue, right around the corner from our CCEC program in Pembroke. Here, we are able to have a group go each week and help with folding towels, cleaning food and water bowls, and picking up and putting away toys, to name a few of the tasks we have. Once those are complete, the group gets to socialize and meet some of the dogs.

Needless to say, we are busy in the community once again after a brief lull, and our individuals are really enjoying these new opportunities and community connections. If you or your organization offers volunteer opportunities please let us know or email kescandel@newenglandvillage.org

Aktion Club Updates

By Ginger Comeau

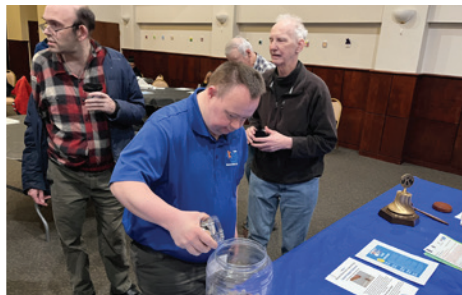

The Hanson Aktion Club welcomed two new members this past fall, bringing our club membership total to 29. This group continues to be very active in helping others through community service. Club members donated over 750 pairs of socks to help the homeless in November, collected over 500 toys for Toys for Tots during the holiday season, and rang the bell for the Salvation Army Red Kettle Campaign. Additionally, they made Valentine cards for seniors at a local assisted living facility, held a loose change collection in February to purchase bed kits for children in third world countries (raising almost $700) and coordinated a bake sale in March to raise money for the club to participate in future community service projects. It shouldn't be a surprise to hear that this club was once again awarded a Distinguished Club Award for the second year in a row. They were also recognized as first prize winners in the Kiwanis International Digital Scrapbook Contest and Video Contest. What a year it has been!

Ceramics

By Melanie Rose-Zagwyn

Having a kiln in the art studio at the Sollar Wellness Center makes it really easy to create handmade ceramic gifts for the holidays. Artists who participated in this offering used ceramic glazes to create designs with a variety of art tools and free-hand painting techniques. Each artist's finished piece showcased their personal color preferences and individuality.

A dedication ceremony was held last October for the new bocce court at the Sollar Wellness Center. The Koechlin family, who played an active role in funding the court was on hand to officially open the court that was created in loving memory of their brother and longtime resident John Koechlin.

Senior Sports Classic

By Ginger Comeau

We were super excited to send five athletes from New England Village to the Special Olympics Senior Sports Classic competition on the Cape in October. These athletes trained for six weeks in their respective sport (bocce, cornhole, and racewalking) to prepare for the event. Special Olympics really rolled out the red carpet to make this a memorable time. They hosted a dinner dance on Friday night, and provided an overnight stay at the Red Jacket Resort in South Yarmouth, which was followed by the competition at Barnstable High School on Saturday. All of our athletes won medals in their divisions!

New Year's Day Party

By Ginger Comeau

An afternoon celebration on New Year's Day allowed many to ring in 2026 surrounded by friends. Festive balloon decorations, along with tiaras, hats and noise makers for all the guests, set the tone for the party. Cheers to good health, good fortune and happiness for all in the coming year.

Welcome Spring!

By Melanie Rose-Zagwyn

The Day programs of New England Village are getting ready for Spring! With the long, cold snowy winter behind us, we are ready to take "Flight" into the warmer, more colorful season of Spring. "Flight" has flown into the Ray Assembly Hall of the Sheingold Building - a celebration of things related to flight. Artists from the Efron Center for Enrichment (ECE) and The Living Center (TLC) collaborated for this group art exhibit. This exhibit will surely delight the senses with its burst of colorful critters, landscapes and, its dimensional surprises. When you visit the exhibit, be sure to look up!

Residential Services

LaChance

In January, after lots thoughtful planning and preparation, Marisa boarded plane and headed off to Quito, Ecuador. Marisa flew with her dad, Ric, and her step mom, Maria, and they were greeted there by her mother, Barbara, who has a vacation home there. This was her first trip back since she was a little girl. Her dad was born and raised in Ecuador and Marisa has large, extended Ecuadorian family. Marisa enjoyed reconnecting with her brothers, Fernando, Ricardo and Alberto.

While there, they enjoyed going to the farmer's market, visiting a flower farm which one of the brothers owns and where other family members work. Marisa enjoyed a beautiful boat ride on Lago San Pablo, attended a celebration, and dressed in traditional clothing as did her mom and step-mom. She had an amazing time visiting with family, trying new foods, shopping and making lots of great memories.

Duplex

Marilyn spent lots of time with family, including a trip to Ogunquit, Maine in the summer, and Family and Friends Day.

Terry is a pro at meal prep. He loves to cook!

In November, Stan attended his niece's wedding in Palm Beach. Looks like they enjoyed some amazing weather!

"Throughout the years, I've written numerous articles about his accomplishments, but as I reflect on his impact today for the purpose of memorializing him, one theme keeps emerging: family.

"Bryan loved his own family deeply and spoke of them frequently with great pride and affection," she said. "Because he placed such high value on his family life, those of us who interacted with him professionally also benefited whether we were staff, NEV family members, or individuals supported by New England Village, he understood what our respective families meant to us. On more than one occasion, while I was dealing with some family situation of my own, Bryan encouraged me to take the time needed to address it, saying, 'Family first, Dolores.'"

Her words remind us that Bryan's kindness was never limited to his professional role—it was part of his character, offered freely to anyone who needed it.

Bryan also recognized the importance of philanthropy and community support. He had a natural ability to connect with donors and friends of the Village, strengthening NEV's foundation and ensuring that its mission would remain strong long into the future. His work expanded possibilities, opened doors, and built stability that continues to benefit generations.

"Bryan Efron embodied everything that New England Village is about, caring, compassionate, and understanding," said Community Connector Jim Scott. "Bryan wasn't just the CEO of NEV he was a true friend who became like family to the residents, staff, and family members of NEV... He wasn't only dedicated to the ongoing daily and financial responsibilities of the New England Village, but also worked tirelessly to secure the future of NEV."

He truly believed that every person deserved the chance to realize their potential and pursue their dreams. And he dedicated his life to making that possible.

Beyond all the achievements, all the growth, all the progress—Bryan was a family man. A devoted husband, father, and grandfather. His love for his family was the quiet force that shaped the way he led, the decisions he made, and the compassion he extended to others.

Jim remembered this clearly: "Bryan's greatest attribute was the understanding that staff especially the direct care staff were at the heart of what made NEV such a wonderful place to live... 'If you're happy with the care and commitment to your loved ones, it's not me. It's a hard-working, dedicated staff.'"

Those words capture Bryan's humility—his instinct to lift others up, always.

Today, New England Village continues to carry forward the values Bryan championed: dignity, independence, opportunity, and community. His influence is everywhere—in the friendships formed, the milestones reached, the moments of joy shared each day. His presence is felt in the laughter in our homes, the creativity in our programs, and the spirit of compassion that defines who we are.

Dolores summarized it best when she said:

"Bryan's unwavering commitment to family—both his own and the community he built at New England Village—continues to inspire all of us. Rest easy, my dear friend. You will always be remembered for the values you championed."

Bryan Efron will be missed beyond words—but his legacy will continue to shine brightly.

Beth Bradshaw

Elizabeth (Beth) Bradshaw passed away on February 14, 2026, surrounded by her brother and the devoted individuals who cared for and supported her.

Beth touched countless lives through her warmth, humor, and the kindness she shared so generously with everyone she met. Over the years, she formed many meaningful connections, each one a reflection of her open heart and generous spirit.

She found deep joy in life's simple pleasures: movie nights, going out to enjoy a good meal in the company of those she loved, listening to her favorite music, keeping in touch with her family, and painting pictures to brighten her room. She especially treasured Christmas—the anticipation, the traditions, and the joy it brought her. For Beth, these moments were never just activities; they were opportunities to connect, to laugh, and to share genuine happiness with others.

Beth's memory will live on through the stories we tell, the quiet moments we remember, and the many lives she so lovingly touched.

Our heartfelt thoughts and deepest sympathies are with all those who loved her.

William Gerstel

William Gerstel passed away on Saturday, January 17, 2026. Bill was a beloved member of the CBDS program for 28 years. He was a gentle and kind soul, known for his warmth and genuine care for others. A wonderful conversationalist, Bill cherished daily catch-ups with his peers and staff, always making a point to ask how you and your family were doing.

Bill had a deep curiosity about the world and loved learning about a wide range of topics, which made him a strong and enthusiastic competitor during trivia games. His impressive math skills truly shone—he could keep track of every room's score entirely in his head during trivia, as well as during other favorite games like Mancala and Farkle.

He was one of the hardest workers in the workshop program and later used those same skills to give back to the community through volunteer opportunities. Most recently, Bill supported others in need by helping package supplies for mobile visits at Visiting Dental Hygiene Inc.

Bill enjoyed listening to music and would sometimes dance alongside his peers. He loved being out in the community and especially enjoyed walks along local beaches. His warm, caring presence touched everyone who knew him, and he will be deeply missed.

NEV Family Association Virtual Meeting Update

NEV Family Association hosted a virtual meeting led by Chair Lisa Hannahan on March 21, 2026. The meeting provided family members and friends with an update from NEV President and CEO Christine Chagnon on important happenings at New England Village. The Family Association also used this meeting to approve how to direct their fundraising efforts from the 2025 golf tournament.

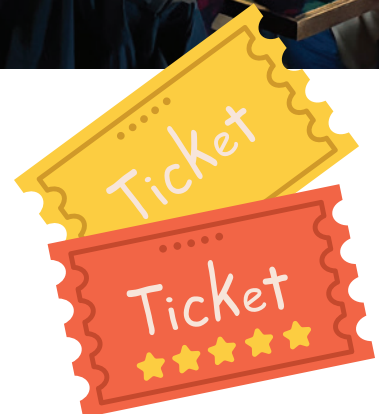

The NEV Family Association voted to approve $50,000 to support the following organizational needs: Summer Kickoff Party, sensory wall enhancements at ECE, outdoor seating options at all day program sites and the 664 School St. property, and a one-time stipend to recognize staff support and commitment during the February blizzard.

If you're interested in receiving information from the NEV Family Association, please email familyassociation@newenglandvillage.org.

Meat Raffle Fundraiser

NEV's Family Association hosted a meat raffle on Sunday, January 11th at Somewhere Else Tavern in Pembroke. Guests were able to watch NFL playoff games on the TV screens while enjoying lunch and trying their best to win some amazing meat packages. The meat raffle raised almost $1,700 to benefit New England Village, along with raising awareness in the community of the services we provide.

Our December Holiday Party at Indian Pond Country Club in Kingston was off the charts. There was food, music, laughter and, of course, a packed dance floor. This event is always so much fun, and our individuals, staff, and volunteers had an amazing time. Many thanks, once again, to our great friend, Paul Sullivan, and his team at Sullivan Tire & Auto Service. We appreciate their time and support of this event each year to celebrate the holiday season.

Caring Force Rally

In April, NEV staff, individuals we support, family members, and board members joined the South Shore Caring Force Rally in Rockland. The Caring Force is a grassroots advocacy initiative of the Providers' Council, which empowers supporters of the human services sector to drive meaningful change. The Caring Force Rally is always an inspirational event.

This year's Valentine's Day Party, held on February 13th, was a wonderful celebration filled with fun and friendship. Guests dressed in red and pink and gathered in Ray Assembly Hall to enjoy the festivities together. Always a crowd favorite, the event once again delivered a great time for everyone who attended.

Welcome Dabra Riley!

New England Village is pleased to announce the hiring of Dabra Riley as NEV's Director of Residential Services.

With over 20 years of experience in Human Services, Dabra's career was inspired by a personal family experience involving brain injury recovery. Through coordinating care and accessing critical resources, she became a strong advocate for individuals in need—a role that quickly grew into a lifelong passion. This experience shaped Dabra's deep understanding of how compassionate, effective support systems can profoundly impact a person's quality of life.

She began her career as a direct support professional, working hands-on with individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities, and later advanced into middle management roles. Her professional background is strongly focused on Acquired Brain Injury, with extensive experience supporting individuals as they transition from skilled nursing facilities to successful and meaningful community living.

Throughout her career, Dabra has been continually reminded of the importance of inclusion, dignity, and respect. The individuals she has supported have taught her invaluable lessons in kindness, honesty, and perseverance, for which she is deeply grateful.

New England Village has a longstanding commitment to equality, respect, and inclusion. Dabra brings her experience, advocacy, and dedication to the team and to continue advancing the mission of empowering individuals to live their best lives.

You can reach Dabra at driley@newenglandvillage.org or by calling 781-293-5461, ext. 124.

Employees enjoyed a few hours relaxing and hanging out together in March at the Wolves Den at the Courtside Bar & Grille on Pembroke. The event was sponsored by the NEV Employee Recognition and Engagement Committee. It was an evening full of smiles, laughter, and friendly competition.

We extend a warm welcome to the following employees who have joined New England Village since the last edition of Scoops was published.

Congratulations to Residential Program Manager Bethany Goode and Assistant Program Manager Dennis Scoyne for being recognized at the 2026 DDS Plymouth Citizen Advisory Board Legislative Breakfast for their outstanding work in supporting the residents of Apartment 4.

Bethany's and Dennis's work have allowed the residents of Apartment 4 to build skills, confidence, and community connections that enrich us all.
